DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-9, 14-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not known to what feature the "side opening" refers. It is assumed for this action that it is the opening for the blade.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-2, 4-6, 10-11, 14-15, 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tseng. Tseng would inherently function as a scraper, further the door is on the "bottom" of the device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 7-9, 12, 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tseng in view of Hsu. Hsu shows that grips of soft plastic should be added to allow for better manipulation. Obviously one of ordinary skill in the art would add such grips to the device of Tseng to improve control of the device.

Claims 20-21 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hsu. Hsu shows soft plastic grips as claimed. No mention of the material used for the body of the device is made however. Hard plastic is an old and well known material for handles or knife bodies and absent a showing of criticality would be obvious to use with the device of Hsu.

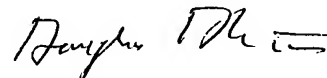

Claims 22, 24-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hsu as applied to claim 20 above, and further in view of Tseng. Tseng shows a hinged door for the blade compartment. Obviously one of ordinary skill in the art would substitute such a door for the equivalent door shown by Hsu.
